

Joy Ride is a Joy Ride!

Today I saw a raunchy, delirious funny girl trip movie called Joy Ride. Wow! Not a bad performance in this cast in this laugh-out-loud funny movie.

A foursome is on a transformative journey to China.

Ashley Park plays Audrey, the lawyer climbing the corporate ladder; Sherry Cola is Lola, her childhood friend, eccentric and erotic artist; Stephanie Hsu plays Kat, college friend and Chinese soap opera star, who has a cat that well...you don't see it until near the end and it's a moment! Sabrina Wu is Deadeye, Lolo's eccentric cousin and just nails it.

Of course there are men: Ronny Chieng from the Daily Show fame plays Chao who gives an unforgettable performance. There are some hunks: Desmond Chiam as Clarence, Chris Pang as Kenny, Rohain Arora as Arvind, and Alexander Hodge as Todd.

There are many memorable and delightful performances throughout this movie. Never a dull moment.

I salute everyone in this movie--just suspend disbelief and laugh as you have never done before!
